THE CAT OUT OF THE BAG

REAL REASON FOR PROLONGATION OF COAL STRIKE.

In a previous issue of our paper we made the definite statement, that CERTAIN OFFICIALS OF DISTRICT 18, UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA, WERE FINANCIALLY INTERESTED IN A COAL COMPANY NEAR TABER, ALBERTA. We have given ample time to have this statement contradicted, but as yet none such has been made by the officers in question, nor by their official organ the "District Ledger." This probably is due to the fact that one of their number admitted the fact at a sitting of the Gordon Conciliation Board.

The mine in question is the EUREKA COAL COMPANY. At the beginning of the strike this coal company continued working, and has been working ever since. We are informed that they first sold their coal at the pit mouth for $2.50 per ton, but for some time past the PRICE HAS BEEN $5.25 PER TON. This advance the public must pay.

WHAT PROPORTION OF THIS ADVANCE DO THE MINE WORKERS OBTAIN?

We are also reliably informed that quite recently a prominent official of the U.M.W. of A., acting presumably as an emissary from the Eureka Coal Company, has been PREVAILING UPON CERTAIN GOOD MINERS IN THE PASS, to journey to Taber and ENGAGE THEMSELVES WITH THIS COMPANY.

These officials of District 18, U.M.W. of A., are fully aware of the fact that WHEN ALL THE MINES IN THE PASS RESUME OPERATIONS, THIS PRICE OF $5.25 PER TON CANNOT BE MAINTAINED. It is therefore to THEIR SELFISH INTERESTS, and advantage, to MAINTAIN AND PROLONG A STRIKE IN THIS DISTRICT as long as it is within their power to do so.

While ONE HAND is pointing heavenward in a strenuous dramatic effort to declare their loyalty (?) to the mine workers in The Pass, the OTHER HAND is diving deep into the TREASURY BOX OF THE EUREKA COAL COMPANY, and FILLING THEIR POCKETS THEREFROM WITH TAINTED DIVIDENDS.

DO YOU WONDER WHY THESE MEN, WHY IT IS THAT YOU ARE BEEN EXHORTED to stand firm and to refuse to return to work?

Do you WONDER that they have made use of every hysterical illogical argument under their command to prevent you from asserting your own voices in this crisis?

THE ONE SIDE OF THEIR FACES stretches long and sorrowful at your woeful condition, urging you to continue in the fight for your rights, while the OTHER SIDE OF THEIR FACES winks merrily at their success in hoodwinking you into a continuance of a strike which apparently is so profitable to themselves.

WE WOULD ASK YOU, THEREFORE, mine workers of The Pass, to put this question before your officers:

"WHO GETS THE BENEFIT OF THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE COAL THEY SOLD AT $2.50 PER TON, AND THE COAL THEY SELL AT PRESENT FOR $5.25 PER TON?" INSIST ON AN ANSWER!

La Meche Est Eventee

Dans une de nos precedentes editions, nous avons annonce que CERTAINS DIRIGEANTS DU DISTRICT 18 DE L'UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA ETAIENT FINANCIEREMENT INTERESSES DANS UN CHARBONNAGE PRES DE TABER, ALBERTA.

Cette nouvelle, depuis que nous l'avons rendue publique, n'a pas encore ete demontee par les dirigeants en question ou bien encore par leur organe officiel le District Ledger. Ceci vient probablement de ce que l'un d'eux a reconnu le bien fonde de notre information dans une des reunions d'arbitrage sous la presidence du Rev. Gordon.

La mine en question est l'EUREKA COAL COMPANY.

Au commencement de la greve cette compagnie a continue ses expeditions et elles les continuent encore.

On nous dit qu'elle vendait d'abord son charbon a l'entree de la mine a $2.50 la tonne, mais que depuis quelque temps deja, elle le vend $5.25 la tonne. C'est le bon public qui paie cette augmentation.

NOUS AMERIONS BIEN SAVOIR QUELLE EST LA PROPORTION DE CETTE AUGMENTATION DU PRIX DU CHARBON QUI VA AUX MINEURS?

Nous apprenons encore de bonne source que dernièrement un des principaux dirigeants de l'U.M.W.A., envoye vraisemblablement par l'Eureka Coal Company a profit de la situation actuelle pour engager CERTAINS BONS MINEURS DE LA PASS A SE RENDRE A TABER POUR TRAVAILLER.

Ces dirigeants du District 18 de l'U.M.W.A. savent tres bien que, quand toutes les MINES DE LA PASS RESUMENT DE NOUVEAU EN OPERATION, IL NE SERA PAS POSSIBLE DE MAINTENIR LE PRIX DE $5.25 LA TONNE.

Il y va, par consequent, de leurs PROPRES ET EGOTISTES INTERETS de prolonger la greve dans ce district autant qu'ils le pourront.

Ils lèvent UNE MAIN vers le ciel et dramatiquement assurent les mineurs de leur devouement et loyauté (?), tandis que L'AUTRE MAIN est plongee dans LES CAISSES DE L'EUREKA COAL COMPANY ET QU'ILS SE REMPLISSENT LES POCHES DE DIVIDENDES BIEN SONNANTS.

ETONNEZ-VOUS MAINTENANT, MINEURS, de ce que l'on vous

(Suite page 8)

Much Coal Being Shipped From Pass

Judging by the number of cars of coal that are being shipped daily from The Pass one must come to the conclusion that the strike is about over, at many of the camps as least, and that things at the coal mines are speedily returning to its former condition when the blasts of the whistles and the busy throngs of black diamond diggers made everyone feel cheerful and everything went with a swing.

At Blairmore alone there are over 300 tons of coal mined and shipped each day which is a very good average considering that work was only resumed at this mine just a few weeks ago. If the output keeps increasing at the same rate it has since reopening, the daily output by the end of next month will reach an average of nearly a thousand. Several of the old time miners have returned to work during the past few days and we understand that many others are ready to break away from the union and take their old jobs at the mines providing their employers are willing to reinstate them.

First Anniversary of Blairmore Lodge

Wednesday was a gala day for the Blairmore Lodge, the first anniversary of its inception of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this town.

On Tuesday, October 25th, 1910, eight members of the I. O. O. F., consisting of E. A. Elliott, Rev. J. F. Hunter, Thomas Hughes, J. D. S. Barrett, Dr. W. McKay, J. F. Lank, George Young and O. E. Soul met in the old Mercantile store about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and there instituted the first fraternal society that is still in existence in Blairmore. In the evening there were thirty members admitted to the new lodge and the entire institutional service passed off without a hitch.

During the past year Blairmore Lodge, No. 68, I. O. O. F., has prospered and to-day there is a membership of about fifty, all of whom are good, clean, honest men. It did not come to see the many able-bodied men with cheery faces seated around the lodgeroom on Wednesday evening. Besides the members of Blairmore lodge, there were visitors from Coleman, many of whom were Rebekahs. After spending about two hours in the lodge room where many good speeches were given, at 11 p.m. the crowd ascended its way to the Blairmore hotel where an elaborate supper was served and numerous toasts given. It was the wee hours of Thursday morning before the happy party broke up and returned to their respective homes.

Sanatorium Put on European Plan

The Rocky Mountain Sanatorium has been put on the European plan and in future all meals taken at that popular hostelry will be served a la carte. The manager, Mr. Geismen, has made some improvements in the dining room, and now persons may go in at any hour of the day and dine. Besides the short orders there are specials for breakfast lunch, and dinner. The service is of the best and the prices are moderate.

Editorial Notes

The ice dealer has stepped down and has made room for the coal man.The chilly weather of the past few days, together with the snow-capped mountains and hills, remind us very forcibly of the near approach of winter.It is hoped by everyone who drives a horse or an automobile that Mr. C. M. O'Brien, M.P.P., will fulfill the promise made by him in this town a few days ago about better government highways and that some of the road improvements so badly needed along these parts will be effected. Anxiously we await the fulfillment.Since our announcement last week that, in spite of the pleadings by a goodly number of the ratepayers of Blairmore, Mr.
Thomas Frayer would not be a candidate for the mayorality in the forthcoming elections, numerous expressions of regret have been made. Many had hoped to see Mr. Frayer in the "hot seat" take the most important position on the town council, which position he has filled with credit to himself and with satisfaction to those who have been most interested in the progress of Blairmore.A story is going the rounds of a certain amateur Sunday-school superintendent who lives not many miles from here and upon opening the school not very many Sundays ago, did not seem to have at that particular time enough conscience to give a prayer of his own composition.
The pastor being absent, the tyro proceeded with the Lord's prayer but left out "give us this day our daily bread." After school one of the scholars said to his classmate, "The superintendent did not pray for our daily bread." "Oh," said Tom,
"he would get his anyway. He boards at the hotel." "Well," replied the former, "he might have had a little thought for those who are out on strike and who don't belong to the union."
The youth who made this quick reply was the son of a striker who did not belong to the miners' union, and the parents refused to allow their boy to attend such a place any longer.The new federal parliament will be called for the dispatch of business on Wednesday, November 15.Candidates for the First Town Council of BlairmoreMany of the ratepayers of Blair-more decided on Wednesday (yesterday) morning that the mayor and aldermen of the first town council of Blairmore shall not receive office by acclamation, and several candidates—considerably more than what will be elected —were nominated and an election will be held on Wednesday next.The following candidates were nominated: For mayor—Capt. W.
A. Beebe and H. E. Lyon; for councillors—C. E. Hiscocke, J. G.
Smith, J. H. Farmer, Charles Chestnut, D. A. Sinclair, Michael Rose, Joseph Little, Archie McLeod and L. Dutil.In spite of the many nominations it is pleasing to note the good feeling which prevails amongst the several candidates, and all seem to be working unselfishly for the further development and progress of Blair-more.All of the candidates are good live men, persons who have a progressive business instinct, and any seven of which we might well en-franchise with the important affairs of "The Hub of the Pass."Woman Takes Poison Lives, but is ArrestedViolet Stewart, a person of an undebatable character, was up before Justices Belcher and Gresham, at Bellevue, on Monday, charged with having stolen goods to the value of $50 from a room mate of hers. She was also charged with having taken poison on Friday last at midnight with intent to commit suicide.She was remanded to stand trial at Calgary and was treated to a free trip to that city on Monday.
It is believed that a love affair led the woman to do the rash deed for which she is now incarcerated in one of the Calgary jails awaiting her trial before a judge of the supreme court.Henry Anderson Jones was found guilty on Friday afternoon, last, at New Westminster, of murdering his wife in that city, on June 3rd last, and was sentenced to be hanged on the 5th day of December next, together with a Japanese who was found guilty some time ago of murdering a fellow countryman.Rev. Clarence Vergil Thompson Richeson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church of Cambridge, Mass is charged with poisoning a young girl that he might marry another.The new federal parliament will be called for the dispatch of business on Wednesday, November 15.

The October Rod and Gun

On the eve of the opening of the big game season, Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ontario, is to the fore with a plentiful supply of good game hunting stories, covering Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific and Newfoundland. The opening story by Mr. Bonnycastle Dale is particularly good, consisting of a fine description of the gallant efforts of a little fawn to escape, its rescue by the sportsman whose best instincts were aroused by its helpless struggle, and capture and revival by the petting showed upon it.

T. Madden, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, was up from Lundbreck on Saturday.

Madame Sherry, the great French vaudeville, will appear at the opera house here on November 9th.

On Christmas Day the Dixie Jubilee players will be at the Opera House here. Don't forget this and spend your Xmas in Blairmore.

The bachelors of Blairmore will give a dance in the opera house here on Halloween, Tuesday next. The boys are all jolly good fellows. They are preparing for a big time and those who will attend are sure to enjoy themselves.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will give a Bean Supper in Mr. Frayer's new brick building at the corner of Victoria Street and Ninth Avenue, on Tuesday next, between 6 and 8 p.m., after which an entertainment will be given.

A Special Thanksgiving service will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening next. The pastor, Rev. A. S. Tod, B. D. will take as his Subject "The Divine and the Harvest." Special music will be rendered. Everybody welcome.

H. F. Kenny, general secretary of the Alberta Sunday School association, was in town on Friday last and conducted a district convention in the Baptist church during his stay in town. It was evident from the small attendance at the convention that Sunday School work is not receiving the attention it should by the young folk as well as the grown-ups.

A fairly good time was spent by some of the members of The Guild and their friends in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening last. A lengthy and interesting programme consisting of vocal and instrumental music, speeches, guessing contests, etc., was given in the evening after which refreshments were served and the innerman well attended to. It was the first social given by the organization since its inception about two months ago, and in some ways it was a success.

The Juvenile Bostonians which appeared at the Opera House on Friday evening last proved with great satisfaction to the large crowd present, that they were the best crowd of kiddies that have ever performed before a theatre-going public in these parts. Truly every performer was an actress and those girls did their several parts admirably well, being encored time and again. All who attended were well pleased and an early return of those popular girls is anxiously hoped for.

Coleman Notes

J. D. S. Barrett was up from Blairmore on Saturday and Sunday.

W. J. Bartlett and R. B. Bartlett "boggymobiled" from Blairmore to Coleman and Carbondale on Sunday afternoon last.

The Juvenile Bostonians appeared in the Opera House here on Saturday evening last and were greeted by a fairly large audience.

Rev. T. M. Murray left on Monday for Calgary to attend the Men's Missionary Convention which convened in that city on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mayor Cameron and W. L. Onimette went to Calgary on Monday to attend the session of the grand lodge of A.F. & A.M. and the Men's Missionary Convention which are to convene in that city this week.

W. H. Murr, accompanied by a number of Calgary gentlemen, made an automobile tour of Alberta and part of B.C. last week, making over a thousand miles in the journey. They all report having a splendid time. No serious mishaps were encountered and the trip was a huge success.

A party is being organized to visit the town of Crows Nest on Thanksgiving Day and to spend the time taking in the sights at Andy Good's menagerie, The Great Divide, The Cave, "the paring of oceans" and many other noteworthy things. It is understood that a literary artist will join the happy party and write up a mild description of what is sure to be a pleasant outing.

The Church of England Hareyst Thanksgiving services will be held on Sunday, Oct. 29th. In the morning at 11 o'clock there will be a celebration of Holy Communion, preacher, Rev. Leslie Fordham, B.E.S. At 2.30 there will be a children's service addressed by the rector. The evening services will in future be held at 7.00 instead of 7.30. Rev. W. L. ## Passburg Notes.

Two concrete foundations were commenced on Main Street last week, and soon two more fine buildings will be seen rising.

J. Davis, who has erected four houses here during the summer, is now busy on the erection of a fine dwelling for James Kiedern.

Quite a number of theatre goers went to Blairmore on Friday to hear the Juvenile Bostonians, and all came back with volumes of praises of this popular troupe.

The best plaster. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound over the affected part is superior to a plaster and costs only one tenth as much. - For sale by all dealers.

Rumor has it that a Baptist church will be built here in the near future and already the people of that denomination have an option on two lots on Redfern's division.

A site has been chosen for the erection of a Catholic church. The choice was made on an elevation in Redfern's division, which has a commanding view over the whole surrounding town.

Bowling Contest

Burrow's bowling alleys were the scene of an interesting game on Monday night, when a team of "scrubs" challenged the "professionals" who lost to the Frank players last week in a tournament at Blairmore. The following are the names of the players and their scores:

THE TEMPTER

Adam Didn't Wait For Eve to Offer Him the Apple.

By KEITH GORDON.

The girl on the porch laid her book aside and looked at him, a faint, skeptical smile visible about her mouth.

"How do you go about it?" was the question that he eyes asked of the radiant landscape. "It's all very well to say that a woman, if she has not a bump upon her back, may marry whom she will, but how would she go about it?"

The scratching of a match broke the stillness, and her meditations were suddenly precipitated from the general to the concrete. She glanced at her watch. A man's form bulked in one of the huge wicker chairs. With his hand forming a screen he was lighting a fresh cigar, seemingly oblivious to everything in the house except that a journal on engineering which lay in his lap.

He was her brother's best friend, and she had known him for years, not with much satisfaction. It must be confessed, since he was notoriously "man's man," living in a man's world and regarding the routine of feminine life with something like the same feeling that he did the humming of a mosquito.

But he was good to look upon—so good that a sudden, quiet reminder of that thought brought her back to her indifference. It assumed the likeness of a personal affront, a sort of insult to her sex. It would serve him right if she, the girl should just make up her mind to marry him and do it, too, before he knew what he was about.

Meanwhile he had tossed away the match and picked up the journal again as imperturbably as if he were alone, a pair of half-indignant eyes watching him with a combination of pique and amusement.

It certainly would serve him right, her thoughts ran on, if some lady should just wind him round and round her finger, make him fetch and carry at her beck and call, reduce him to a perfect mass of sentiment. Something in her steady gaze caused him to move uneasily, then look up.

"Did you speak?"

He had the perturbation of a person who knows he must keep guard over himself or he will be guilty of some reminiscence. A heroic resolution to do his duty was visible in his face.

"No," she drawled, "I didn't speak. But if you don't mind very much I think I will. I'd like to ask you, for instance, if you have ever had a 'lad's day'?"

"A lad's day?" he repeated briefly, shaking off his eyeglasses with a characteristic movement, while his tormentor watched him as if he had been some sort of specimen that she had impaled upon a pin. Then a light dawned upon him.

"You mean such as they have at the club—a day when the place is given up to your sex and other matters go to the wall? Well, no. I don't know that I ever had."

"Don't you think it is time?" she ventured.

"Possibly," he admitted, but he still held the journal in a way that suggested a well-nigh unconquerable desire to return to the comfortable stretch of his hand. Reluctantly he handed it over.

"Did it ever occur to you," she asked blandly, "that the creature who tempted Adam so successfully, who is at the bottom of everything, as it were, must be as an intricate as your oil engineering problems?"

"I have always considered Adam weak, very weak," was his evasive answer. "Men aren't like that nowadays."

At these banal words a resolution that had been taking form in her mind became full fledged. She was inspired with the sense of a mission, and her neglected sex should find an avenger in her.

"You think you wouldn't have eaten of the apple, then?"

"There was a new note in her voice. It was at the same time a challenge and an appeal."

"As if it were something absolutely new it came to his mind that girls were delicate, helpless creatures, and were of tenderness for the sex against their kind. Still he was very positive that he wouldn't have eaten the apple, and something in the soft, babyish, yet dependent way in which she looked at him caused him to explain at great length why."

He talked fifteen minutes by the clock; she was listening in high glee, but outwardly she was all deferential, honey-sweet attention.

"I'm sure he wouldn't have yielded if he'd been like you," was her earnest comment when he finished speaking, and at the words he was conscious of a pleasant exasperation, a yearning of satisfaction in the knowledge that it was unusual. It was as if he were saying larger, broader and more seriously before her very eyes.

"Go back to your reading," he said, not able to brook any other minute. She jumped up and, laying her hand on his arm, finished indignantly: "You don't mind my bothering you, do you?"

A girl gets so tired of woman talk! A chat like this is like a plunge in a cold stream." And she vanished into the house and returned to her image in the mirror, with the remark, "You're doing well for a beginner!"

Down on the broad planks the man had returned to the closely printed columns before him, but after a half hour he gave up.

"In state," he murmured, throwing the paper on the table. "Wonder where's his gene. Never before read so much interesting stuff as—for a girl. Had I ever had a lad's day? Umph! That was funny!" And he smiled at the recollection of it.

For the next two or three days she avoided him as much as possible.

"I must give him plenty of time," she decided bravely, "never let him suspect that he's taken the bait."

On the third day he proposed a long tramp to her.

"You don't want a silly thing like me," she protested, with modest self-deprecation. "I can't talk about bridges and buttresses and caissons and all those interesting things that you know about. I shall only bore you."

"What was it you said the other day about the creature that tempted Adam?" was his laughing reply. "Perhaps I want to take up a new line of study."

"That made him think I was the most dependent thing that ever lived," she scoffed shamelessly to her mirror that night. "My timid little feet could scarcely get over the ground without help, and as for climbing fences—"

She went into a peal of laughter as she remembered how solutions he had been about her getting over a fence that was in their way—and she who could turn a handspike as well as either of her brothers!

"Of course I couldn't do it if I really liked him," she murmured. Then the girl in the mirror averted her face quickly. "I'm just going to give him much needed lesson, you know," she went on. This time the girl looked into her eyes for a moment. After that she threw herself on the bed and buried a hot face in the pillows.

As the weeks went by the startling conviction that there was one girl in the world who never bored him, never made him long to escape and get back to his own kind, came to be a certainty to the man. With the coming of this knowledge the world seemed a brighter, livelier place.

The idea of marriage, which had hitherto seemed as remote as that of suicide, came and lodged within his brain as if it were an old friend. He thought, with some scorn, of his former views.

They were standing under the big apple tree in the back garden. From the ground she picked up one of the round, smooth apples and brought it to him. "Something in the action brought back to him the conversation they once had about Adam, and he wondered how the count ever had been so cross, so dense. He held out his hand.

"Please, Eve," he beseeched. "But you are not like Adam," she began absently.

"No," he said meaningly. "He waited for temptation. I don't intend to wait."

And that night she whispered to the girl in the mirror, "What Thackeray says is true!"

The Dispute.

A rabbit went out walking one day, and when he came home he found his burrow occupied by a weasel. He was greatly annoyed at finding a stranger in his house.

"See here, Madam Weasel," he said, "what are you doing here? This is not your home. Please get out of my burrow."

"Your burrow, indeed?" cried the weasel. "I'll do no such thing. I am perfectly at home."

"Well, now," said the rabbit gently, "let's take the dispute to Grimalkin." Now, Grimalkin was a cat, the judge of all controversies, and came to the forest, and so the weasel could do nothing less than consent to do as the rabbit suggested. They set out together, and soon arrived before the judge.

"Come near to me, my children," said Grimalkin, "and I will do it."

They obeyed, not dreading of any harm that might come, and the cat, casting out a clawed foot at each side, gripped them both and sent them disputing by casting them one after the other.

Moral.—People often ruin themselves by results. It is better to come to an agreement out of court.—French of Perrin.

Loafing.

"I loaf and invite my soul," sang Walt Whitman in one of his "barbaric yappings" that has sounded "over the roofs of the world. And it is no doubt the best, profoundest and highest thing ever said or sung about loafing."

The soul—if we may be so fortunate as to have one in the real and high significance of the word—will hardly come to our mundane aid, no matter how often we may invite it, unless we have it in our ordinary business of living give it a chance to visit us. Like the virtues of art, it demands a large leisure and far horizons.

This is why the poets and thinkers possess "souls" and we ordinary mortals do not. Our life is "unwarmed, so 'cabin'd, cribb'd, confined.' So we creep or shuffle up beside we grope in our huddled and cluttered existence. We must "loaf" and invite it.

Loafing is good for us now and then. As a habit it is very bad, but even a "good custom," as Thackeray assures us, would "corrupt the world" were it not for wholesome change and variety. And an occasional loaf, whether voluntary or enforced, may be salutary.—Columbia State.

A straight line is the shortest in nature, or in mathematics.—Edgeworth.

OLD TIME LIBRARIANS.

Spofford, Whitney and Butler Made a Famous Trio.

With Alsworth Rand Spofford, for fifty years librarian of congress, who died in 1908; the passing of Wentworth Masson, for more than thirty years librarian of the New York Society Library, and of James Lyman Whitney, for forty years with the Boston Public Library, a triumvirate of school librarians has gone. The environment, conditions and methods of administration have changed. In the days, before the days of elaborate catalogues, with subjects grouped and classified, the librarian was popularly credited with carrying all the knowledge of the universe in his head, ready to impart to all comers on request.

Mr. Spofford and Mr. Butler were both born in Hampshire and Mr. Whitney in Northampton, Mass., about a decade later. Amherst, Dartmouth and Yale contributed to their culture, and New England and the country gave them their early vigor and resourcefulness.

Mr. Butler knew the books and the belles of New York for three generations. William Cullen Bryant, Gulliver C. Verplanck, Pitt-Greene Halleck and Everett C. Duyckinck were among the famous names of knowledge. The great jurists and statesmen William M. Everts, David Dudley Field, Hamilton Fish, John Jay and Samuel Tilden were intimate friends and constant visitors at the society library.—New York Post.

ROTARY SNOOWPLAWS.

These Powerful Machines Are as Big as Freight Cars.

The snowplow is a huge machine, as big as a freight car, and built of steel. On the forward end is a monster wheel with powerful blades of steel looking like an American electric fan, so arranged that their angles can be changed. This wheel, which is perpendicular to the track and revolves at right angles to it, is inclined to the right or left, also of steel and with sharp steel edges. The top of the drum is supplied with a pipe or chute.

Inside the snowplow is a steam engine, which drives this huge fan wheel at from 100 to 250 revolutions every minute. Below the body of the plow near the track is an ice cutter to clear the rule of ice before the wheels come over them, and a "finger," as it is called, designed to scrape the bulk of the snow off the track itself after the fan has whittled the snow bank away and thrown the most of it to one side.

Behind the snowplow are coupled from one to three or even more powerful engines, and behind these a car. On the car are many men with shovels, for, despite its enormous power and its ability to toss loads of snow about as you might toss a ball, even the rotary gets stuck in snow and has to be lignified.—JUL.

C. N. Clardy in St. Nicholas.

Artificial Camphor.

There is in operation in New York State an artificial camphor factory, the product of which is intended to compete in the market with the natural substance. It is maintained that the artificial camphor is better than the natural, for it is extracted from the camphor trees of Formosa.

Artificial camphor is made from essential oils, and is chemically the same as the natural. Chemically the only difference between turpentine and camphor is the possession by each molecule of the ether of one atom of oxygen, which is lacking in the former, and in the process the needed oxygen is supplied.

Three-fourths of the entire supply of camphor is used in the arts and one-fourth in medicine.—Exchange.

Measuring Water by Sound.

An electrical device whereby a sound wave is sent to the river bottom, and a relatively shallow water and upon being reflected back to the vessel is received by another part of the same apparatus has been designed in Norway for measuring the depth of the sea.

An automatic record is made of the time elapsed between the departure and the return, and, as the velocity of sound in water is known, the depth is at once ascertained. The apparatus makes a continuous record and is so constructed as to give an alarm when the water shallows to a certain depth. Several tests of the apparatus have been made to prove the absolute accuracy of the device.—Montreal Standard.

Amazon River Prices.

At points on the Amazon river prices are $20 a barrel. Shoes are $15 a pair and beer $1.25 a bottle. 1,000 miles from Para, where for the best tobacco and sugar is the river price is higher and higher. Food of all kinds, liquors and all fluids come from a distance. The course up 3,000 miles of the river shows only wild banks of impenetrable jungle running indefinitely distances back from the river. In this jungle are the rubber trees and the people gathering the gum. The supplies for them must come vast distances; be transported on the backs of men, in many cases after long canoe trips, and consumed as sparingly as possible.

Around the World.

Improvements in the Transatlantic railway service now make it possible for a journey round the world to be made in thirty-seven days. From London to Yokohama by way of Siberia would take two weeks. The trip across the Pacific would take twelve days, making a Vancouver twenty-six days distant from London. Eleven days are allowed for the journey from Vancouver to London by way of New York.—Argonaut.

KEEPING BOYS ON FARMS.

Government's Corn Club Movement Found to Interest the Youngsters.

In a farmers' bulletin describing demonstration work on southern farms the United States department of agriculture declares that "one of the outgrowths of the demonstration work is the boys' corn club movement. We were in a position, through our organization and our force in the field, to perfect the corn club idea and give the instructions necessary to systematize it. Under our supervision every boy secured a definite piece of ground under definite instructions that will give him an exact knowledge of He's had it and he's killed himself—death—smoking himself to death.'"

The magistrate at that time was about 51 years old, and Brother William was then about 88.

Mr. Bartlett invariably stood for Brit well remembered "Sandy" and his advice. Some six or seven years ago, on one of the occasions when a number of the boys had remained in police court after the session of the court, the venerable magistrate gave advice to some of the boys who were smoking. "You shouldn't smoke," he said. "It's bad business. I never smoked in my life. I found it was a view to carrying on for their smoking, but he said, 'No, it's harmful. Look at Brother William. He's had it and he's killed himself—death—smoking himself to death.'"

"SANDY" BARTLETT STORIES.

Late Windsor Magistrate Was a Famous Character For Many Years.

Windsor, Ont., contained a great loss in the death, a few days ago, of "Sandy" Bartlett, who for over half a century was a police magistrate in the best sense of the term he was "boss of the town," and wherever he went in Windsor people never dreamed of questioning his authority, even though he might be dealing with matters of his own pocket; he gave a great range of his duties as magistrate.

He brought to bear on his work cool, calculating common sense, and often brushed aside technicalities to do justice. Many a time he imposed a fine and then promptly paid it out of his own pocket; he gave a great number of men good advice instead of a term in jail, and he would never separate man and wife if he could arrange a reconciliation.

Newspapers of Windsor and Detroit well remembered "Sandy" and his advice. Some six or seven years ago, on one of the occasions when a number of the boys had remained in police court after the session of the court, the venerable magistrate gave advice to some of the boys who were smoking. "You shouldn't smoke," he said. "It's bad business. I never smoked in my life. I found it was a view to carrying on for their smoking, but he said, 'No, it's harmful. Look at Brother William. He's had it and he's killed himself—death—smoking himself to death.'"

HEALTHY CHILDREN ARE A BLESSING

Healthy babies are good babies, and the good baby is a blessing in every home. No mother can give the mother or father more pleasure than to see baby play. Every movement is watched with delight; every new word spoken brings pride to the fond parents. It is only the sickly baby that makes home wretched—and, mothers, it is not baby's fault when he is sick. You are the one to blame. Perhaps you give him candies, cakes and other food which his little stomach is unable to digest. Then when he is cross and ailing you give him some "soothing" mixture to quiet him. That is wrong—remember his little stomach is not as strong as a grown-up person's, and also remember that every spoonful of "soothing" mixture you give him only does him more injury—it does not remove the cause of his fretfulness—it merely dopes him into an unnatural sleep. What is needed to make baby healthy and happy is Baby's Own Tablets—a medicine with a guarantee of safety. About them Mrs. Mathias McCormick, West St. Peter, P.E.I., writes: "We have used Baby's Own Tablets with good results. They are certainly a blessing for mothers that have cross sickly babies. They sweeten the stomach; give refreshing sleep and make baby fat and healthy." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

VERY SHORT AND RIGHT TO THE POINT

FRANK MILLER TELLS WHY HE RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

He used them for Rheumatism, Heart Disease and Lumbago, and they went right to the root of his troubles.

Elkmouth, B.C. (Special).—Frank Miller, section foreman on the railroad here, whose work exposes him to all kinds of weather, has discovered that Dodd's Kidney Pills are a sovereign remedy for those kidney ills that almost invariably follow neglected colds.

"For four years I suffered from Lumbago, Heart Disease and Rheumatism, brought on from a cold," says Mr. Miller. "And I got the very best results from using Dodd's Kidney Pills. I freely recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from these diseases."

Short and to the point, that statement, isn't it? But they go right to the point. They cure the kidneys. Healthy kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood means good circulation and renewed life and energy all over the body.

Thus Dodd's Kidney Pills not only cure disease. They tone up the whole body and make a man feel that he has been given a new lease of life. That's why people all over Canada are shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Politeness is a valuable asset—on both sides of the counter.

Time is Ripe

It is evident that the time is ripe for the inclusion in the Bank Act of a clause that will provide for the regular and effective inspection of all chartered banks. There can be no objection to this on the part of all reliable and well-managed institutions, and it would have a wholesome effect on any isolated cases of other kinds.—Quebec Chronicle.

Shiloh's Cure
There isn't any laughter that sounds quite so sincere as that of a woman who is so fat she shakes when she laughs, but no fat woman has ever been selected by sculptors as the ideal figure of "mirth."

Contentment and its Cure.—When the essential organs refuse to perform their functions properly the intestines become sluggish, and as constipation is the result, it is a danger to the health and it requires a speedy cure. At the first indication of their ailment the sufferer should procure a packet of the pills and put him- self at once to the use of them. The good effects of the pills will be almost immediately evident.

Don't jump at conclusions. Facts have an ugly habit of lying round for you to slip on.

Sometimes people do, and suffer, because the stomach balks.

England's First Railroad.

The traveling on the first railroad in England was not very comfortable, as the coaches were at first only coupled with chains, and the passengers were now, so that they jerked their seats at starting and clanked violently against each other when the driver put on his brake. When fairly in motion, if the speed was any but the slowest, the very short wheel base produced a pitching action, so trying that if the journey had not been a short one it would have seriously affected the popularity of the railway as a means of passenger transit.

Coins Turned to Snakes.

A money trick of Hindu jugglers invariably causes great amusement to every one who sees it except the victim of the joke. The juggler takes three copper coins and places them in the palm of some one in the group of spectators, bidding him hold them as tight, as he can. By and by it seems to the holder of the coins that they are swelling and growing hot. They seem to be moving about. He holds his hand closed as long as he can and then opens it, always with a gasp of fright; for there wriggling about are three tiny snakes.

Relief for the Depressed.—Physical and mental depression have their origin in a disordered state of the stomach and bowels. The organs are deranged in their action the whole system is affected. Try Eucalypti Extract. They revive the digestive processes, and the blood is purified. The result is that the spirit is as no other pills will. "Your friend is rather indelicate," remarked Mrs. Wombat. "Says he her husband some panettolas for 'sleeping'."

"What's wrong with that?" "I wouldn't think of mentioning sleeping arrangements in public."

"You'll have to hurry up that bath-sheet," said the manufacturer. "As these goods to be a war," inquired the customer.

"No, but it's only business etiquette to deliver it before this year's model goes out of style."

I bathed it with MINARD'S LINIMENT and it was as well as ever last day. Your very truly, T. G. McMULLEN.

Young But Wise.
Cute youngsters have been at it again, and here are some of their sayings and doings:

In an office in Toronto is an office boy who has some idea of what should and what should not be coming to him. He never actually objects to anybody, but he has a way of saying a message, but across a paper on his desk he recently wrote in a slightly enigmatised, "Rush orders a dozen."

In a school in a Western Ontario town is a little girl who has not taken quickly to the mysteries of addition.

"One 'n' one" asked the teacher while putting the class through the easiest of the addition tables. The little girl referred to was the only person in the class who couldn't give the answer. "Two 'n' one" asked the teacher. The little girl smiled confidently, put up her hand and, when noticed by the teacher, said "Shoe polish."

Another lad of four years was asked to "stay to tea" at a house in Toronto where he had spent the afternoon with the children of the house. The head of the house being away, the mother decided to have for herself and children a simple meal including cornmeal mush. Not being sure how the little visitor would like the idea, she said to him, "Do you like cornridge?" "Yes," admitted the child, and he added feelingly, "But I don't like it when I'm out for tea."—Courier.

Building Activity.
Tremendous building activity in some cities of the west is shown in a comparative table covering 27 cities, which appears in the January number of Construction. It is observed that Regina and Moose Jaw, however, are somewhat agamagant while Port Arthur shows tremendous strides: Berlin, $27,500; Calgary, $4,400; Brandon, $26,400; Edmonton, $22,600; Fort William, $41,100; Halifax, $24,300; Hamilton, $39,200; Kingston, $23,900; Lethbridge, $26,700; London, $21,074; Montreal, $200,627; Moose Jaw, $52,000; Ottawa, $26,000; Peterboro, $2,670; Port Arthur, $120,000; Prince Rupert, $204,300; Regina, $20,940; Saskatoon, $124,210; St. John, $26,000; St. Louis, $24,200; Sydney, $12,000; Toronto, $2,040,000; Vancouver, $1,200,000; Victoria, $104,500; Windsor, $1,200,000; Winnipeg, $271,500.

Rain Was Scarce

In the Yakima Valley, Washington, where the big apples are grown, and bearing orchards sell at $1,000 per acre, rain is scarce. Irrigation is practiced everywhere. But now, when during the growing season a light rain will fall for a few minutes, these rains are highly prized and irrigation water is measured, closely and served to each user in proportion to his acreage.

One summer a fruit grower who owns forty acres of orchard was rejoicing in one of these precipitations when one of his hired men entered the house.

"Why don't you stay in out of the rain?" inquired the fruit grower.

"Oh, that's all right," replied the man. "A little dew like that doesn't bother me a bit. I can work right along just the same."

"That isn't the point," replied the rancher. "Next time it rains you come into the house. I want that water on the land."—Youth's Companion.

PLAGIARIZING AN EPIGRAPH.

Wag Turned an Old Rhyme into a Joke on Late R. Walker.

In an article which recently appeared in an English periodical on ancient epigrams one was quoted which must have inspired a certain, that attracted some attention in Toronto a quarter of a century ago. The epigram in question is described by the English writer as "a delicious blending of the temporal and spiritual, and one which shows that in the olden times the spirit of successful advertising was already to be found in the business world." The verse ran:

Beneath this stone, in hope of Zion, Doth lie the landlord of the Lion. His son keeps on the business still, Resigned unto the heavenly will.

Some anonymous joker who lived in Toronto in the eighties was evidently familiar with this epigram as the following facts show. One of the great merchants who helped to build up the commercial prosperity of Toronto at the time it started to grow in real earnest was the late Robert Walker.

The large emporium of R. Walker & Son stood on King street on the site now covered by the King Edward Hotel and the Victoria street extension. These were the days of trade marks, and the title of the Walker establishment was "The Golden Lion."

An immense golden lion was prominently given to the decoration of the store. Robert Walker was a prominent Methodist and foremost in all religious work.

He was called by his father, and shortly after his funeral someone inscribed on the grave-stone of the cemetery of close to his tomb that the allusion was apparent, the following verse:

I am on my way to Zion, My sons are still at "The Golden Lion." Measuring goods and filling the till, Thus fulfilling their father's will.

Oratorical Bulls.
The Ottawa Free Press thinks that no bulls made nowadays compare to those of Sir Boyle Roche, but they had once on Orator by an orator who closed an oration by quoting "the historic language of Lord Byron in Paradise Lost: 'A man's a man for a' that.'"

Up at the Canadian Bow they have a close second named John Collins. He attended a political reception given to W. B. Smith, now Mayor of Algoma, then just elected M.P.E. Collins, among other things, said that the train did not run at great speed, averaging about twenty-five miles an hour for the main lines and twenty miles on the branches.

Not Puffed Up.
What's in a name. Allen Bristol Aylesworth suddenly became "Sir 'Alan." Dan Mann becomes Sir "Donald." What magic is there in the touch on the right shoulder of a royal award, which changes the commonplace nomenclature into things of oral beauty? There is no doubt that Dan will still be Dan to the average man, no matter what his official name may be in the table of precedence.

And for Sir Alan, he will continue to be familiarly known as the Parliament Buildings as "old A.B.," the name which he has used for each week in his little private office studying the reports of judges concerning dumb animals; and he will continue to be known as the "barren she" title of evidence to see if by chance justice can be tempered with mercy.

Emma Came Back.
Captain Jones of the steamship Canada relates the following story illustrating the remarkable sagacity of dumb animals:

Besides the crew of the ship of the White Star-Dominion Line there is a feline superhuman named Emma. When the boat landed in Montreal, near the close of the past season, Emma, desiring for the time her newly-born family, set out, according to custom, for a walk up Commissioners' street.

But Emma became so interested in the improvements to the harbor that she lost track of the time and returned to the dock to find that the Canada had not yet sailed. She called. Was Emma perplexed? Well, perhaps, but she was not displeased. Strolling along the wharves she took passage by the Allan Line, there until she found her ship, ran up the dock and, a week later landed in Liverpool, trotted up the quay and joined her family.

His Proper Place.
Mr. George Reginald Gentry has received a vaster vote than has been for the Toronto mayoralty. Some years ago, Toronto was divided into wards, and a "Joke" was to be elected and Toronto has profited by the blunder.

On a certain occasion a crowd of ladies waited on the "Joke" Mayor, and promptly appeared at noon—the hour of appointment.

"Ah," said His Worship, gruffly, "I think I'll have to postpone this interview 'till you like to see."

A bright and disquieted woman who was secretary of the deputation said: "Certainly, Mr. Mayor. We'd like to detain you from your trough."

Al Batter del Martello si Scuopre la flagagna

In un precedente numero del nostro giornale noi abbiamo definitivamente detto che ALCUI DIRETTORE DEL DISTRETTO 18 VOTI LAVORANTI UNITI DELLE MINE D'AMERICA, KRANO FINANZIARIAMENTE INTERESSATI IN UN'ALTRA COMPAGNIA DI CARBONE, VICINO TIER, ALBERTA. Noi abbiamo dato luogo spazio di tempo aspettando una risposta contraria a quanto abbiamo riferito, ma finora nessuno dei direttori in parola ci ha risposto, neanche nel loro organo ufficiale District Ledger. Questo ci fa molto probabilmente e dovuto al fatto che uno dei loro membri ha ammesso in una adunanza nella quale presiede Rev. Gordon.

La miniera in parola è l'Eureka Coal Company.

Al comitato della coalizione qui Compagnia ha continuato il lavoro, e lo con loro tuttora. Noi siamo informati che essi dapprima venderanno il carbone nel lungo per $2.50 alla tonnellata: ma per alcun tempo (a 11. PREZZO) E STATO DI $6.25 PER TONNELLATA. E il pubblico che deve pagare questo soprappiù.

QUALE PROPOSIZIONE RICOVANO I LAVORANTI DELLE MINE DA QUESTI AVANZI?

Noi siamo informati da fonte certa, che essi recentemente, uno dei primi direttori della C.M.W.A. agendo come si suppone, come mandato dalla "Eureka Coal Company" si è approfittato di certi buoni lavoratori nel Pass, per andare a Taher e Lavorare Per Quella Compagnia.

Questi direttori del 18 Distrito U.M.W.A. sanno benissimo che Quando Tutti le Mine Qui Riprenderanno il Lavoro, il Prezzo di $5.25 per Tonnellata Sarà Necessariamente Ridotto. E pertanto Nel Loro Malaguardato Interesse e vantaggio di Mantenere e di Prolungare lo Sciopero qui tanto che possono.

Mentre con una mano addosso il Cielo, e con un'impeto forte esortano gli operanti a dimostrare la loro lealtà (?) nell'interesse degli stessi in questo distretto. Con l'Altra ammassano fuori nella Casa Forte della "Eureka Coal Company" Spuntando fra Loro l'Utile Guadagno ed Emulazione le Piacce.

Vi Meravigliate, Operai? E perché il mal stato degli scioperati a tener fermo il vostro proposito ed a ricevere il lavoro? Vi meravigliate perché essi hanno usato ogni sorta di argomentazioni che fanno per loro, e così allenarsi dal concorrere unanimemente per bene vostro a por fine a questa crisi?

Costoro Fan Mostra di Compingerli nella vostra attuale sciagura, e vi esortano a continuare la lotta perché vi dicono che ciò è nel vostro interesse; e ma, a vero dire, essi vi riducono di sotto i Balli, riducono di voi perché servendosi di voi il loro guadagno è maggiore; e dal canto loro vorrebbero sempre che voi continuaste lo sciopero a loro vantaggio.

NOI PERTANTO VIDOMANDIAMO, o lavoratori di questo distretto, per fare questa domanda ai vostri direttori: "Chi Guadagna la Differenza Tra Carbone Venduto a $2.50 per Tonnellata, a Carbone Venduto per $5.25 per Tonnellata?"

Esigete una risposta.

Don't trifle with a cold in good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all druggists.

Strathcona and the age of Achievement

On what he says will probably be the last voyage but one he will ever make across the Atlantic, Lord Strathcona, arrived in New York the other day, on his way from England to the Dominion. As a veteran preponderant on the deck of the Mauretania viewed the unfolding panorama of skyscrapers and great bridges, looming over the lower bay of the American metropolis, he grew reminiscent and recalled how it had once taken him 42 days to make the journey he had just made in four and a half.

It is more than three score years since Strathcona made his maiden trip across the seas in an old packet ship and in that time, the world, awakening from centuries of inertia had evolved most of those electrical and engineering wonders which make for present day efficiency and enable us to do in one hour what formerly took us twenty to accomplish. It is true Stephenson and Watt in England and Cooper in the United States had first steam locomotives, Fulton his river steamboat, the Scot, illuminated by gas, and Morse and Whistons their systems of telegraph. Though crude and primitive, these inventions which gave a new impetus to civilization, set men thinking and fired the imagination as nothing from the beginning of time had done before. Contrasted with the ninety days taken by the Pilgrims to make the trip in the Mayflower from England to Cape Cod 1720, the three months spent in negotiating his way from London to Baltimore by the original John Jacob Astor and the eighty days required by voyage of forty-two days marked as important and epoch making a step in the world's evolution as does his more recent four day voyage, thought he probably did not suspect it.

In the time it took him to make his forty-two day journey across the Atlantic, Jager-Schmidt, a Paris journalist recently circled the globe for his newspaper. Thus that which challenged admiring and wonder last year or yesterday, to-day commands but passing notice. From the sailing ship to the steamship was a long stride and likewise transition from the stage coach and the stage express to the steamship. The land operated telegraph, with its limitation of fifteen words a minute, which brought the remotest corner of the world into instant touch with the centres of civilization and destroyed the natural isolation of nations and communities, wonderful in its day and generation, like the original steamship and locomotive now seem monstrous compared to the 1500 words a minute telepost system of automatic telegraphy which transmits over one wire as much as Morse sent over sixty-five and at a fraction of expense.

Wellington at Waterloo bivouacked by candle light and Florence Nightingale, the "Angel of the Crimea," ministered to 198 survivors of the Light Brigade—the noble 600—of Balaklava by oil lamp. "Boh" in the in the Transvaal, shaped his campaign by gas, and topped the naval hero of the Japanese-Russian war, recently a visitor to the Dominion, by electric light.

Practically all of these changes have come to pass in the life time of Strathcona. In meditating on them, as he looks back to the first of the 100 transatlantic trips he has made in the last 60 years, truly can he be fascinated with the world and say, this is an age worth while.

The international dry farming congress will hold its next session in Lethbridge in 1912.
